PHENIX HOTEL,
(Corner of Main and Mulberry Streets.)
Lexington, Kentucky.

THE subscriber begs leave to inform his friends and the public generally, that he has leased this old and well known Hotel, in the city of Lexington, and that he has taken charge of the same.

The House has recently undergone a thorough renovation; the rooms are newly and neatly furnished; and still further improvements will be made to render it in all respects worthy of public patronage, and an agreeable home to those who may avail themselves of its privileges.

Intending to devote his own time and attention to the business, and to surround himself with competent assistants, together with faithful, polite and attentive servants, he gives the assurance to the public that no efforts on his part shall be wanting to make the old Phoenix in all respects worthy of its reputation in its palmy days.

Professions, however, are too easily and too frequently made to be of much value unless accompanied by corresponding acts, and he, therefore, only asks that the public may test the sincerity of his pledges by giving him a call. They will always find him ready to minister to their comforts in the best manner in his power.

LIFE PILLS AND PHENIX BITTERS.

THESE MEDICINES have now been before the public for a period of thirty years, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the Globe, for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing varieties of human diseases in which the VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES are well known to be infallible:
Dyspepsia, by thoroughly cleansing the frigid and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acid kind; Flatulency, loss of appetite, heart-burn, headache, Restlessness, Ill-Temper, Anxiety, Langour, and melancholy, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

Constipation, by cleansing the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels sore within a few days.

The use of these PILLS for a very short time will effect an entire cure of Salt Rheum, and striking improvement in the clearness of the skin. Common Colds and Influenza will always be cured by one dose, or by two in the worst cases.

Fever and Ague.—For this scourge of the Western country, these medicines will be found a safe, speedy, and certain remedy. Other medicines leave the system subject to a return of the disease; a cure by these Medicines is permanent, tried, satisfied, and cured.

Bilious Fevers and Liver Complaints.—General Debility, Loss of Appetite, and Diseases of Females.—The Medicines have been used with the most beneficial results in cases of this description. They will, in fact, induce a perfect cure, and yield to the mild yet powerful action of these Medicines. Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Nervous Complaints of all kinds, Palpitation of the Heart, Painters' Colic, are speedily cured.

Mercurial Diseases.—Persons whose constitutions have been corrupted by the injudicious use of mercury, will find these Medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicate from the system all the effects of Mercury, infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparations of Sarsaparilla.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

FRANKFORT.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 21, 1863.

It is suggested that the abolitionists at the start of this rebellion wanted a big job. They desired to show what they could do, and, moreover, desired great opportunities at the Treasury. Hence they repelled all the Union men of the South, and drove tens of thousands of them into rebellion. The job was not still big enough, and they are now trying to force a majority of the North into rebellion, where the magnitude of the task will show their skill and prowess to great advantage in dealing with such a mass. They have tried effectually laws and proclamations, and other experiments; and it is suggested that the abolitionists are engaged in manufacturing rain's horns, as they have read in a book somewhere that the walls of cities have fallen by such instrumentalities. Perhaps it is for the sake of some grand experiment of this sort that our Generals have not been allowed to pursue with vigor any of their old, antiquated ways of ending rebellions by defeating their armies. We have had abolition vigor in constitutional amendments and proclamations. When the rebellion gets formidable enough, we shall be ready for the grand experiment with rain's horns.

The news is that a large part of the rebel army on the Rappahannock, are moving west to attack Rosecrans in Tennessee. I seem to be the luck of General Halleck to produce a report on the part of the rebels. They always slip away from him, and go elsewhere, to help their laboring brethren on other fields. So Rosecrans left Corinth and went to Richmond to keep McClellan out of that city; so now, having nothing of consequence to do, they leave the Rappahannock, and make straight for Rosecrans, who will have something for them to do.

We hear of the Federal army going to move toward Richmond, and suddenly halted. Just as we expected, the rebels are free in the east to come west to guard their failing fortunes. Such is the plan of Halleck. Washington is safe, and so is Halleck.

It is not as clear as daylight that the Missouri Legislature will be as compliant to abolition suggestions as it was supposed it would be. It is thought that a majority are inclined to the moderate rational view of things, and a large minority opposed to all the radical schemes of the abolitionists. An attempt to approve the proclamation was promptly laid on the table.

Attention! Those who "trip the light fantastic toe" will have a first rate opportunity at the Capital Hotel on Friday night.

We are indebted to Hon. A. Harding for valuable Congressional documents.

At a meeting of the officers of the 22d Kentucky regiment, on board the Crescent City, on the Mississippi river, Jan. 8, 1863, Lieut. Col. Monroe was called to the chair, and Chaplain S. S. Sumner invited to act as secretary.

The following preamble and resolution were introduced by Major Wm. J. Worthington, unanimously adopted, and a copy ordered to be furnished to the Louisville Journal and the Frankfort Commonwealth:

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God, the Supreme Disposer of life and of death, to remove from among us our late and beloved companions in arms, amid the conflict of battle at Vicksburg on Monday, December 22, 1862, while gallantly leading their companies in a charge upon the enemy's breastworks, Capt. Daniel Garrard, of Frankfort, and Capt. Wm. B. Hegan, of Louisville, Ky.,

Resolved, That the country has lost in their death from its young officers none more capable and worthy to command, more exemplary in their deportment, more devoted in their patriotism, more brave in action, and more deserving a place in the heart of the nation.

[For the Frankfort Commonwealth.]
Early Recollections.

BY L. T.

Lieut. D— was in command of the garrison at Newport, and had under him two or three "subs," as they were called, and they made a merry, jolly mess, as wild young men could have desired to meet with.

Their quarters at the garrison was an evening rendezvous for the gay spirits of the town, where there was song and story, and plenty of bodily comforts to make the time pass away pleasantly.

There was no want of another material, which was, in those days, considered not a luxury, but a necessity—I mean good whiskey.

With the song and story, eating and drinking, many an evening was passed by the young bloods, and they often ran their evenings into the "wee, sma' hours" of the morning.

The hospitality of the garrison begat a corresponding disposition on the part of the citizens to return the compliment, and the result was some of the fine suppers and social gatherings held at the tavern then kept in Newport by King D— and his good lady, as ever were seen.

These things were pleasant enough while they were going on, but there were, with some of the boys habits formed which lasted them through life, and greatly shortened their days. Now very few of the number remain. Out of forty or fifty, I know certainly of but two besides myself now living.

How they and I escaped I can't tell, unless they, like myself, never acquired any taste for strong drink. It is true, all did not pass away from the influence of strong drink, but many of them were helped to their end by it.

One of the consequences growing out of these free and easy ways by the officers and their associates, were corresponding easy practices on the part of the soldiers.

They let out their wild and erratic feelings in robbing hen-roosts, bee-hives, pigpens, clotheslines, and other similar moral practices; and now and then, when disturbed by the guardians of the night, by whipping or trying to whip the patrol.

Few believed that the example of the officers had anything to do with the conduct of the men. If an officer drank and indulged himself in a little revelry, now and then, what had the men to do with it?

The truth is, man, like the monkey, is an imitative being, and he gets his habits as much, if not more, from the examples and practices of those around him, than from their precepts.

We had a fine exemplification of what I have written, in the sudden change which occurred at the garrison when one of the staid old army men came and took command. Major M—, who, if my memory is not at fault, was subsequently killed in a fight with the Indians in Florida.

When this old gentleman came there was no carousing at the garrison; no drunken soldiers often to be seen on the streets.

The officers in the garrison no more thought of quitting the barracks, without leave, than the men.

One of the young gentlemen had to play officer of the day, others drill the men—guard mounting, outside sentinels, and inside sentinels were seen night and day. The routine was, I suppose, pretty much as they have it when in an enemy's country, and the result was good order in the garrison, and no disturbances in the town amongst the citizens. If there was, it was of rare occurrence.

Sundays the men not on duty, about half past ten in the morning, dressed clean and neat, and came out of the garrison gate in companies or squads and marched to the churches and heard divine service.

No one can imagine a more striking change brought about by good discipline, mildly but firmly enforced.

How I did pray that such a man would drop into command at this place when Du mont and his men were here, just to have taught him and then the difference between men under army discipline, according to the articles of war, and men under the command of a political black republican General, who allowed his men to act as though all the rules and regulations consisted in which could steal the most, particularly in the negro line.

There were no complaints, while Major M— was at Newport barracks, of Quartermasters and Commissaries driving their teams to a man's house and taking from him all of his corn and provender, burning up the fences on the plantations and farms about the garrison, and driving wagons on to a gentleman's land and chopping down his timber, and burning it up without ever asking any leave or license about it.

The wonder to me is that those gentlemen who have and are still suffering in the loss of timber, grain, fences, &c., do not try the remedies pointed out in the 33d and 54th articles of war: Demand the spoilers and trespassers to be held liable to the civil laws.

It is a sad reflection that officers and soldiers, sent forth to uphold and sustain the Constitution and laws, commit outrages and wrongs disgraceful to savages.

The day may come, but it don't now look much like it was coming soon, when army men, as well as men who set up to judge the rights of others by their code of morals and of law, will find that true loyalty, as well as true morality, consists in protecting persons and property even when it will require some trouble and inconvenience to do it.

One by One.

One by one we gathered treasures—
One by one we garner joys;
Culling sweets from varied treasures,
Treading life's tempting toys.
But the joys of earth are fleeting—
Passing like the setting sun,
And we scarce can give them greeting,
Ere they leave us, one by one.

One by one life-buds are springing,
Into beauty's gayest bloom;
Happy hours are past us winging—
Perchance hastening to their tomb,
And the bright, fair days are flying,
As the fleetest couriers run,
And the autumn leaves are dying—
Sallying, one by one.

Thus we o'er life's lessions linger,
Watching through the withering maze
Times fleeting, busy finger,
Creeping—crushing brightest days,
Thus we mingle joy and sorrow,
"Till life's cares and duties done—
We attempt the untimely morrow,
Sinking, dying, one by one.

CEMENT ROOFING.
The Cheapest and most Durable Roofing in use.
IT IS FIRE AND WATER PROOF.
It can be applied to NEW and OLD ROOFS of ALL kinds, steep or flat, and to SHINGLE ROOFS without removing the Shingles.
The Cost is only about One-third that of Tin, and it is Twice as Durable.
This article has been thoroughly tested in New York City and all parts of the United States, Canada, West Indies and Central and South America, on buildings of all kinds, such as Factories, Warehouses, Churches, Railroad Depots, Cars, and on Public Buildings generally. Government Buildings, &c., by the principal Builders, Architects and others, during the past four years, and has proved to be the CHEAPEST and MOST DURABLE ROOFING in use; it is in every respect A FIRE, WATER, WEATHER and TIME PROOF covering for ROOFS of ALL KINDS.
This is the ONLY material manufactured in the United States which combines the very desirable properties of Electricity and Durability, which are universally acknowledged to be possessed by GUTTA PERCHA AND INDIA RUBBER.
No Heat is required in making Application.
The expense of applying is trifling, as an ordinary Roof can be covered and finished the same day.
IT CAN BE APPLIED BY ANY ONE, and when finished forms a perfectly Fire Proof surface, with an elastic body, which cannot be injured by HEAT, COLD or STORMS, SHRINKING or ROOF BOARDS, nor any external action whatever.

Liquid Gutta Percha Cement,
For Coating Metals of all Kinds when exposed to the Action of the Weather, and
For Preserving and Repairing Metal Roofs of all kinds.
This is the ONLY COMPOSITION known which will successfully resist extreme changes of all climates, for any length of time, when applied to metals, to which it adheres firmly, forming a body equal to three coats of ordinary paint, costs much less, and will LAST THREE TIMES AS LONG; and from its elasticity is not injured by the contraction and expansion of TIN and other METAL ROOFS, consequent upon sudden changes of the weather.
It will not CRACK IN COLD or RUST IN WARM WEATHER, AND WILL NOT WASH OFF.
LEAKY TIN AND OTHER METAL ROOFS can be readily repaired with GUTTA PERCHA CEMENT, and prevented from further corrosion and leaking, thereby ensuring a PERFECTLY WATER TIGHT ROOF FOR MANY YEARS.
This Cement is peculiarly adapted for the preservation of IRON RAILINGS, STOVES, RANGES, SAFES, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, &c., also for general manufacturers use.

THE GREAT FIRE AT TROY, N. Y.
The Phoenix of Hartford.
[Extracts from letters from S. L. Loomis, Esq., President of the Phoenix Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., to R. H. & H. M. Magill, General Agents, relative to the late serious conflagration at Troy.]
PHOENIX INSURANCE COMPANY,
Hartford, Conn., May 12, 1862.
"A big fire at Troy—we are in how much we don't know. May be $200,000; but whatever it is, it will be paid as fast as adjusted, and no crying. Secretary Kellogg went up there this morning. Mr. Wallace (Adjuster) will meet him there to-morrow. They will make short work of it. The fire swept off about fifty acres of buildings—a calamity to Troy, but one no human forecast could have prevented. It is the first emergency we ever had, and such an one as gives more character to a Company than a hundred $5,000 fires."
HARTFORD, May 13, 1862.
"Our losses may reach $15,000 or $20,000, but whatever they are, they will ALL be paid before SATURDAY NIGHT if they are not paid by then. It is such a fire that tries the backbone of Companies, and if they can stand up under the heavy load, it will give them great credit."
S. L. LOOMIS, President.
